JULY 2022

VICTORIAN CRAZY QUILT, YO1-096-01, 1881

Shared Family Histories

In Spring 2023 the Gibson House and Property will feature an exhibition on Japanese Internment in Yolo County. We encourage community members of Japanese ancestry, whose families experienced internment, to share their objects or stories as part of the exhibition. For more information or to participate, please email iulia.bodeanu@yolocounty.org or call (530) 666-8147 by Friday, Nov. 18th.

COLLECTIONS REVEALED!

We continue to create sneak peaks into the Yolo County Historical Collection via social media. We have now compiled a playlist of our historic fun. Check out the Yolo County Historical Collection website to view these virtual offerings:

FALL EXHIBITION- STITCHED TOGETHER

We are excited to announce an exhibition of quilts and textiles from the Historical Collection. This exhibition will be held at two sites. The Gibson House (September 8, 2022 - February 3, 2023) and Gallery 625 (2nd floor of the Yolo County Administration Building) (October 7, 2022 - February 3, 2022)

SHARED FAMILY HISTORIES

Join us on Saturday, Sept. 24th at the SquareOne Makerspace at the Woodland Public Library for a quilting workshop with master quilter Sherry Werum as we re-create a historic Quaker quilt. More info here: <https://woodlandpubliclibrary.com/191/Square-One>

DIGITIZATION IS UNDER WAY

With the help of Sac State intern Harvey Jones, we have started the process of photographing the entirety of the Historical Collection. Images, when available, will supplement collection records online via the Axiell database available here: <https://yc-ais.axiellhosting.com/home>
